

You are not alone, what happened was not your fault and it was absolutely wrong. We believe you, we now have a healing plan in place that can help you.

Restore Together is a voluntary advocacy and support group for victims/survivors of sexual abuse in Spiritan schools, Blackrock College, Willow Park School, Rockwell College, St. Mary's College, St. Michael's College & Templeogue College. It is made up of victim/survivors and non-victims. Together we advocate for the provision of structures to aid healing from trauma.

Restore Together is completely independent from both the Spiritan Order and the Restorative Justice Team.

Restore Together commenced engagement with the Spiritan Order on 19/5/2021 and has continued to meet on a regular basis regarding the development and urgent implementation of a comprehensive Restorative Programme to help bring healing to those who suffered as children and continue to suffer as adults.

Restore Together's objectives for all victim/survivors are:

TRUTH – JUSTICE – PEACE – RECONCILIATION – HEALING

Following much discussion with the Spiritans, the Order agreed to support a victims/survivors approach to healing developed by Restore Together in order that victims/survivors be given an opportunity to deal with their abuse by members of the Spiritan order or their employees.

The comprehensive plan to healing presented by Restore Together was built with assistance from victims/survivors and trauma informed professionals. There is a totally independent restorative team led by Tim Chapman, which works with victim/survivors to avail of different possible supports. Contact timchapman@rjteam.net. The Restorative Justice Team are fully qualified Restorative Justice practitioners, totally confidential, totally independent of all parties (including Restore Together and the Spiritans) and free of charge to you.
